Humans relate to and are thrilled by fireworks
as a distant memory of creation.

These teachings will clearly show that Birth (Creation) and Development (Evolution) go hand in hand.
You cannot have one without the other.

A Profile

I am a professional musician. I play and teach six instruments and compose music. I've been an organist and choir director for many different religious denominations. I have also taught vocal music in private elementary and pre-schools and have had my own dance band in the past. I live with my husband Lyle in Grand Junction, Colorado. We have one son, Neil, a computer scientist living in California. Neil has done many of the drawings used in the teachings.

When I began composing in 1981, the music and lyrics would flow out in complete form. A year later, I began to receive information from a spiritual source that flowed the same way as the music. This new material was later explained to be from spiritual teachers whose intent is to bring the Chrysalis Teachings to human understanding. My individual part in the work is to act as a thought provoker; to bring through ideas that stretch our minds and break us out of the shells of old thinking; allowing us to wonder "What If." This work is in the realm of creative ideas, before inventions are made or new products are designed and opens the possibilities of new ways of doing things. For the last twenty years I've been working on the Science of Music. This science will tie everything that has existed since the time of the big bang until now, to a musical vibration for the purpose of finding compatibility between the different kingdoms.

I have been blessed with the privilege or gift of "knowing" many spiritual truths. It seems that some part of my makeup has the ability to "know" and "see" the aspects of creation in a way that relates to musical vibrations. Actually, being a musician, it was the vibrations of music that I've been exposed to since the age of four that enables me to do this.

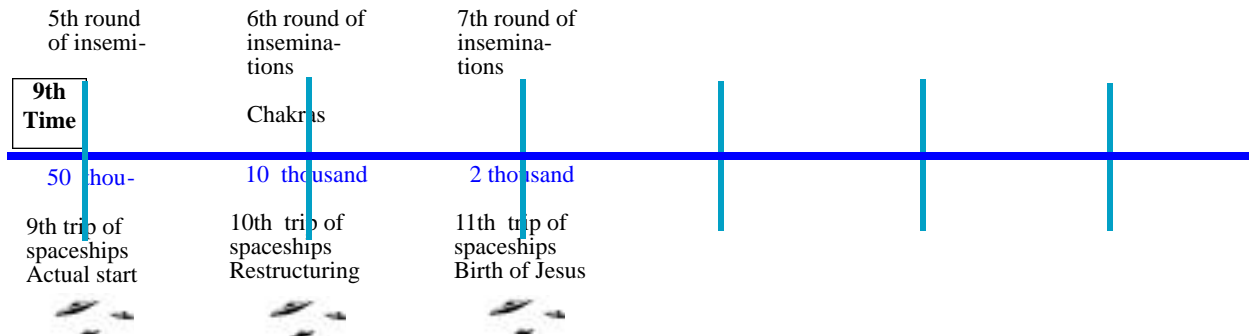

These notebooks enable us to look at any time period of the universe. They allow us to experience events that have happened in the past, events that are happening now, and events that will happen in the future. Each New Millennium NoteBook will take a look at a small portion of the TimeLine of Eternity.

CHAPTER ONE

The Birth of Humans

A Review Of The First Five Days

Space travel had been in effect for eons before earth even cooled enough for life of any kind to begin. Earth had been watched closely for signs of evolving amoeba. When these were finally spotted – by space explorers similar to our exploration of Mars today – then earth was put under close watch. Expeditions went every thousand years or so. Remember, time is irrelevant everywhere else in space. These exploring ships would bring back samples of life forms that were developing and continuously monitor the direction they were evolving in. The ships with the laboratory specimens were protected by the rest of the fleet, as these specimens were very important for keeping track of the progress of the race. They were put in laboratories and their evolution speeded up so that the explorers knew, eons before it happened, what man would eventually look like. The speedup of evolution was done by artificially inseminating evolving man with their own genes. (This is where the saying that we were made in God’s image came from.)

In what we term the dark ages, there was a period of time when no spacemen came to earth, a long period of time. It was thought that it was best to leave the animal/men to evolve to a certain stage, that stage where they stood upright. On the third day, the third trip, they landed and rested and really explored. This is when the genes were inseminated for the first time and it took many, many eons of matings to evolve the race to where it is now.

At the time of the third trip the land of Canaan was a dry, desolate, barren area. Crops would not grow easily. Shelter was hard to come by. Even the animals had a difficult existence there. When the spacemen first landed (on the Biblical third day) to do the first explorations this is where they set down their ship. It was a huge Mother Ship, brought on this excursion for the purpose of a long term stay for the astronauts to live in. The animals who saw them were frightened of this huge monster and all left the area. It was difficult for the spacemen to even determine the stage the animals had reached. They finally tempted a few with food to come near them, ready to destroy them if they turned on them. These few were males. They needed to catch the females, but could not contact them. They had to finally set traps.

This was when the first genes, the pure strain, were injected into the race. The offspring of these early inseminations were rejected by the male animals as not being the same as they, which, of course, they were not. This is where the rejection of the young by the male animal had its start and this continued even though the next offspring were the male animal's own. The males wanted no part of their offspring. The females were left to raise the offspring by themselves and so it is in the animal kingdom even today. It continued thus until the genes from the group from Venus produced enough males that would accept the offspring because they were similar by this time.

These very first offspring eventually mated within their own kind and became what is called the Jewish race today. They were outcasts; they stayed apart as they were not accepted by the other animals and also because they were so much more highly evolved that they wanted nothing to do with the animals. The other races have evolved now to the same stage but their heritage is different – their evolutionary track was different. The Jewish Race was brought forth by a pure insemination of the Creator's genes.

The divine sparks entered the bodies after the third round of inseminations took place. (This would be the fifth day Biblically speaking.) This was at the time of Lemuria. Please do not misunderstand, it wasn't the length of time of three generations, it was much longer – in other words, a new round of inseminations was not made for each new generation. There was a longer time period between these matings, so the outcome of the previous mating could be determined and it could be decided just how to proceed with the next. It finally was determined, through trial and error, that two generations needed to pass before the next mating took place.

So the time from the beginning of the first matings to the days of Lemuria was more like six generations. The Garden of Eden came about three generations later to give added help. This is the beginning of recorded history in the Bible.

The Biblical passage, "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," was given by the space men as applying to the breeding experiments between the "Sons of God" and the "Sons of man," in that now that it had been accomplished it never could or would be undone by anyone. This mating that the spacemen were talking of was misinterpreted as being a mating between humans and incorporated into the marriage ceremony due to misinterpretation, not as a deliberate act to control people.

Fifth Round Of Inseminations

50 Thousand Years Ago

Beginning Development Of The Sixth Chakra - The Third Eye

This was the actual start of human beings where spiritual and physical evolution meet. Humans, meaning half animal/half man, were created when the divine spirits began to enter the refined animal forms to learn and experience the animalistic nature of earth so that they would have control of earth. They have finally realized that they cannot control the nature forces of the planets, but can learn to control the nature forces (animal nature) of the forms (bodies).

Seven Soul Rays Sent Down

The seven soul rays were sent down after the 5th round of inseminations approximately 50,000 years ago. This was considered the Lamanian stage which lasted about 10,000 years and was followed by the Lemurian stage at approximately 40,000 years ago. This was followed by Atlantis approximately 30,000 years ago. The thought-forms had been just floating around waiting after their first try at entering bodies. They had quite a long wait. It took about three rounds of inseminations, waiting a couple of generations between each round before the forms were really refined to the point where Michael the oversoul thought that His children could try it again.

First Ray

He emphatically told this first group of sparks (the first ray) that they had to be bold and brave and in control at all times; that they had to make a place for themselves in an unfriendly uninhabited little world. They were the pioneers, the forgers of the path for those who would come after. They must tear down any barricades to their entrance and destroy anything that stood in their way or tried to keep them from taking up residence there. Indeed, they had to be very strong, forceful and bold.

Second Ray

When He sent the second group (ray) down, He realized that the actions of the first group were almost those of a bully and needed to be tempered with a little love and lots of wisdom. He saw right away that the tactics of the first group were a little too forceful. Therefore, He gave orders to the second group that they should calm the first group down, always use their head to reason things out and to love the first group and all who come after them.

Third Ray

When He sent the third group down, He was trying to find the way that worked best and He told them to experiment, to always be open to new ideas and new ways of doing things. He did not want them to be dictatorial, like the first group, nor did He want them reasoning every move out like the second group. He was trying to strike a happy medium with this third group by having them open to trying to find the better way, but not agonizing over each decision. They were to be as a scientist in his laboratory proving his theories.

Fourth Ray

This, then, caused much friction between these three, very different groups. He realized that He had to send in a fourth group to act as a referee between the first three. He needed to have a mediator, a go-between, to find a way to balance the tendencies of each group. This would enable each group to see that there was good in each other's ideas. The fourth group is still having to do this. This is where those wanting to enter any branch of the judicial system will be found, entering on this fourth ray as their personality ray.

Fifth Ray

Michael, the oversoul, thought "Ah! At last I'm getting somewhere. Things have calmed down enough and they're getting along so well now, that I can finally send in my intellectual group." They had been waiting to come in, but He had to get things in balance before they entered so they would find an atmosphere conducive to study and learning and be able to come up with theories of the best way to do things. In fact, they found the others eager for their knowledge and became, in their own way, little dictators, mental dictators, not physical bullies like the first group. They, the fifth group, decided that their way of doing things was the best way, the right way, the only way. So they put everything in neatly labeled boxes and presented the boxes to the people.

Sixth Ray

Michael realized that the fifth group had also “messed it up,” and He decided to send in the sixth group to tone down this fifth group. He felt the fifth group needed to be shown that they should be able to bend, that a little flexibility wouldn't hurt anything. The sixth group had been lectured before entry, by Michael, that He didn't like all that strict mental discipline and to loosen things up with some fantasy and day-dreaming, to make the world a little softer and more comfortable. This the sixth group did, but wouldn't you know it, they went overboard also and became fanatics, devoted to following the oversoul's orders. This was the only area of interest to them and they became almost unbearable to be around.

Seventh Ray

At last, in desperation and running out of groups to send in, He sent the seventh wave in so He could stay in touch, through open channels, with all the groups. This seventh wave is His communicator group. Through them He can keep order and keep them on the path, setting things right between all of them. He did indeed endow those on this ray with special equipment and gave them special orders. This group on the seventh ray also had their “black sheep,” but as He had run out of groups, for now He would have to let things work as they would. He had done his best and He had His communicators to send messages to the rest of the groups. There are enough of these communicators working for His good, that the few “black sheep” among them don't seem to be that much of a danger – or are they?

Atlantis And The Sixth Chakra

Eventually Humanity developed into the stage termed the Atlantean stage, and the sixth chakra, the third eye, developed. This sixth chakra was due in part to man's deviousness, cunning and manipulation, and also due to the disuse of the solar plexus. When they wanted to know what others were thinking they used their imagination to visualize what the other person was thinking, trying to second-guess each other. This led to day-dreaming and more visualization and imagination. This in turn led to the sixth center, the third eye.

Sparks Are Bisexual - Forms Unisexual

It was working! It really was working, but then again, in another way, it wasn't working. Remember, these thought-forms were unisexual. They were a combination of both sexes; they had the qualities of both sexes in their make-up, but the animal bodies, the cave men, were either male or female in one body. Therefore, there was both the male and female spark in the male body; and also the male and female spark both in the female body. There were fights like you wouldn't believe. There were perverse sexual acts taking place.

This was the stage of Atlantis. It was a mess. Even Michael, Himself, could not control it. He had lost all control. Those animal men, those cave men, had no thought as far as anyone else went. Having both parts, male and female, in the same body made for not only very wise, knowledgeable, creative entities, but at the same time created many warped minds with twisted sexual appetites and weird sensational ways of appeasing them. In the same body were genius qualities and, at the same time, the most retarded in this one area of development, the sexual drive. No one living today can imagine some of the things they thought to do with no feelings of right or wrong. There was no conscience of any kind working in the area of sex, and this area carried over to all phases of life in Atlantis. It covered every aspect and influenced every action.

Old Civilization Destroyed, New One Started

Michael felt He had to do something. He decided that He was going to almost have to start over again, only with the refined cave man instead of clear back to the early animal. At the time of Atlantis He asked for help again from an even older brother who had gone on to another galaxy. This brother sent help in the form of storms that practically destroyed this beautiful earth. But Michael had to have this done because the cave men were going to destroy it themselves if He didn't do it, so He cleaned it up. The most advanced of the cave men and the most advanced of the animals were saved and He started His creation over. (The Biblical story of Noah and the Ark.)

Sixth Round Of Inseminations

10,000 Years Ago or 8000 BC - Restructuring of Form

When this devious manipulation got carried too far, drastic action was needed, because once again Humanity was at the point of destroying itself. At this time the restructuring (The Biblical story of Adam and Eve.) took place which brought about the 6th round of inseminations at approximately 10,000 years ago or 8000 BC to bring it into our time frame.

Seventh Round Of Inseminations

2,000 Years Ago - The New Creation

Birth Of Jesus

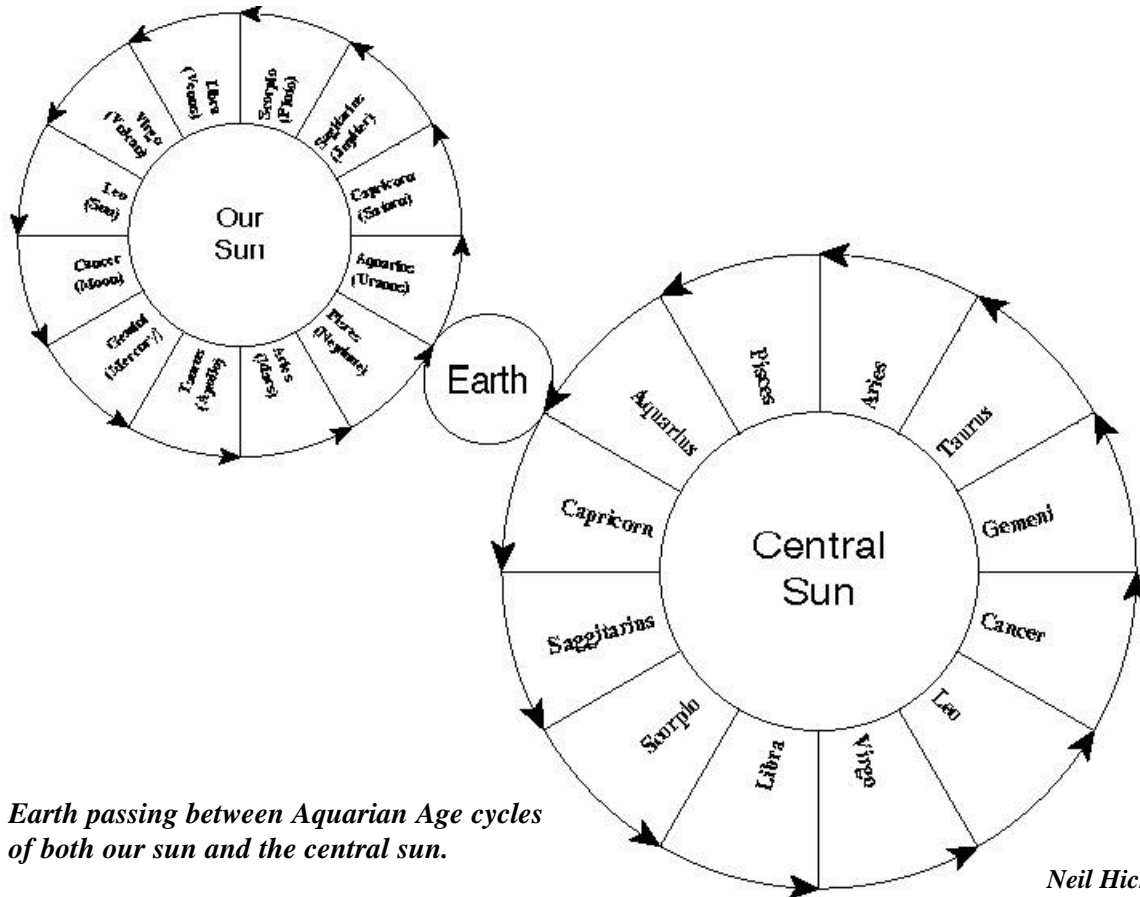

The seventh round (or day Biblically speaking) began with the birth of Jesus approximately 2000 years ago and is still underway. Do you think this will be the end of the inseminations? How do you think the 8th chakra will be added? By another round of inseminations, and the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th will also be accomplished the same way. It is all part of the plan for planet earth.

Christ Consciousness is Energy Flare from our Sun

What has been termed as the Christ Consciousness was a tiny energy flare from our sun. It was bestowed on the man we call Jesus but He has not been the only one to pull in this fantastic flare of energy from the sun. There are cycles when this is much easier to do, to pull in this energy from our sun. These cycles are in 2500 year cycles. (This should give a clue as to when it will take place again, should it not?) It is available at any time during the 2500 year cycle, but much stronger and much easier to pull in at the 2500 year intervals. There are those on earth now who have achieved the Christ Consciousness, but not to the degree, the high degree, that will be available at the end of the 2500 year cycle, when it took place before.

The Restructuring of Creation Started After Atlantis Was Destroyed

The Bible story dealing with Noah and the Ark took place when it was determined that both parts of the entity were not to be allowed to surface on the earth at the same time. Restructured Creation is the point at which the Biblical story of Noah and the Ark begins. The divine sparks were whole (male and female) until the powers were stripped from man with the restructuring of the human form which took place after the Earth passing between Aquarian Age cycles of both our sun and the central sun.

destruction of Atlantis, (the story of Noah and the Ark). This was when it was determined that there needed to be a total, complete, sure way to have control of some sort over the entity after he or she had incarnated. New rules and regulations were needed concerning the entering of bodies.

Having both halves of the spark together was, indirectly, the cause of all that went wrong in Atlantis, but was not seen as being the cause until one member of the Hierarchy took on a body and descended into that nightmare, leaving his female half out of incarnation – in other words as an experiment to see if there was control available. It worked; more volunteered to experiment this way and the decision was made to start creation over in this manner.

It was decided by Michael the oversoul, after this experimentation, that it did not work for the two halves of one spark, the male and the female halves, to be in manifestation (living in bodies) at the same time, as there was no control, no system of checks and balances. Beginning at this time half of the divine spark was all that was allowed to enter the form. The other half had to stay on the inner planes and control the half that went into the body – therefore the rule was made that when the male half incarnated, the female did not. She stayed on the inner planes to help and guide the male half. When the female half was incarnated, the male half stayed on the inner planes. This was the fall of man referred to in the Bible, and was caused by the devious behavior of mankind at this time period, mostly deviation in sexual behavior.

Noah And The Ark

The story of Noah and the Ark has not been as misinterpreted as most, but has not been considered from the angle of help from other planets. The earth was indeed shifting on its axis then as it will do again soon. The rains that came then could not be prevented and Noah was commanded to build the ark by the space fathers. They didn't want to see eons of hard work be lost and have to start over.

This was the time when Atlantis disappeared, the same way our west coast will go. The most evolved humans were in Atlantis at that time and the loss of this civilization would have been a major setback for planet earth. The people were removed over a period of fifty years or so.

Noah was the one chosen to bring an experiment into fruition by preserving only his own family because his children were the first to be the split halves of the soul. But when it got closer to time, the space brothers realized that the animal kingdom was, indeed, also more evolved in Atlantis and needed to be saved. This was also part of Noah's task. He was to save a pair of each species so they could reproduce and the animal kingdom could continue as it was. They did indeed reach Egypt and the ark was torn apart, dismantled on purpose and burned as it was unusable for any purpose after that due to the droppings of the animals. There were other survivors in other parts of the world but not in the particular area where Noah's flood took place. The inhabitants in the other parts of the world soon went back to the inner planes and when reincarnated, were also then split. There were many of these floods throughout history. There will be another one soon. It is due to cataclysmic action of the earth.

Atlantis

Speaking of Atlantis, it is not true that they blew themselves up with solar power. They understood and used it correctly. The Atlanteans had the potential to misuse this power generated by the Crystal at Atlantis, but the shift of the earth happened prior to any misuse. The world is at the same stage now. Man has the power to destroy himself, but the shift of the earth is at hand. Tales may be told later that the destruction to come was man made (nuclear) but, as with Atlantis, it will be the forces of nature, not man, that determines the final outcome.

The Sealing Of The Kundalini

The split of that divine spark into male and female halves was the redistribution of the vibrating atoms in the energy centers – the chakras – that took place at Atlantis, at the flood of Noah. The split of the spark, the story of Adam and Eve, is the beginning of the Bible. The sealing over of the core was the sealing of the kundalini, the root chakra. This was what the snake in the garden represented as the kundalini lies coiled at the base of the spine, similar to a snake. The passages about the snake also cannot be taken literally. The snake symbolized wisdom because the kundalini was the storehouse for memories of man's early beginnings from the amoeba on.

The "Lord" – the Captain of the scientific expedition – while working with his experiments realized that the new animal-man would repeat the same mistakes every time he reincarnated if this sealing was not done. When the snake was told by the "Lord" that man would step on his head (seal the opening), and that he, the snake, would nip at the heels of man, (the wisdom would be put behind him) was the sealing of the kundalini that was done at this time period.

Because this first chakra was sealed, from this point on the bare, exposed, shiny, new kernel in the brain of humans is sealed over with a thin membrane by the time an entity is four years old, and the new personality is begun. This can be scientifically proven. The new personality develops slowly along with the help of the soul who tries to direct the growth and shaping of the personality.

The Bible

The Old Testament is a historical account of the genetic experimentation that was being done by those spacemen from more highly evolved systems to get a more intelligent, evolved human for the divine sparks to experience the earth plane through.

Adam and Eve

Adam and Eve is a story that was misinterpreted in that it did not refer to physical bodies! It referred to the split of the divine spark, which was the start of restructured creation. Lucifer, son of Michael, the oversoul of planet earth, was determined this time to not lose control again. I would like, at this point, to give the story of Adam and Eve in the way it was meant to be understood. It was not meant to be taken literally. It was meant to convey that the pulling of Eve from Adam's rib was the forming of the new personality. Adam represented the original seedcore and Eve the new personality-soul that developed over eons of incarnations of entities, due to the sealing over of the original memories and allowing new thoughts and ideas to be pulled through, out of, if you will, the original atom.

I will attempt to coordinate some of the books in the Old Testament with events that took place in connection with the spacebrothers:

Genesis

The book of Genesis was a condensation of history up to the point of the fifth day, with the rest of Old Testament a detailed story of the sixth day and the New Testament giving a picture of the seventh day. The saying that God made heaven and earth in six days and rested on the seventh came about by the spacemen describing what they saw when they made their trips every thousand years or so. The first day was the first trip, the second day, the second trip, etc.

Space Ships During Biblical Times

Ezekiel was seeing a space ship. They were landing and he was frightened, not ever having seen one before. Jacob's ladder was the way into a space ship. The ships used during Biblical days were not as advanced as now. They had the same outward design and appearance, but were powered by solar energy cells. These are not yet perfected on earth to the stage they were then and even then they malfunctioned many times, so these expeditions were dangerous. The astronauts on these journey were chosen very carefully and given much training, as even today ours are.

Many times the astronauts had trouble leaving the earth's hold. There were many that crashed and burned. Some simply returned to earth when they found their ship malfunctioning. They stayed and continued to live on earth. This accounts for the long life spans spoken of in the Bible. These star people had to decide they had enough and "will" themselves to death of the body so they could return to their home star. This still takes place today, this willing of bodies to die. Methuselah was, of course, one of these. His ship broke apart while taking off and he was the only survivor of the expedition. He didn't realize that he needed to will his own death until he was nine hundred earth years old. He was able to help many generations of earthlings and became a well-loved mentor of the race. Job was another with the same fate. These accidents were not planned, but they did indeed speed up the evolution and advancement of the race. When this was discovered, more volunteered to stay and help. This is ongoing today. The volunteers on earth now will soon be called home so no danger will befall them for their heroic deeds.

Meaning Of Pentecost

The babe himself cannot defend his right to his birthright until he is approximately four years old. At this time this sealing over will, must, take place to certify in this child's mind that he is more than just a walking, talking animal. This event is the proper meaning of Pentecost. It takes place in each individual at about the age of four. This is the symbology of Pentecost in the Bible as it comes at approximately one fourth of the way through the twelve month church calendar. The individual Pentecost comes one fourth of the way through the time of birth until the age of responsibility.

At the present time it is not recognized by humanity and needs to be as it is a significant stage in evolution. Until this takes place, the child has a vivid rapport with, and memories of, the inner life. He remembers past incarnations and the time period before birth and even remembers his birth passage. He is far wiser at this time with the wisdom of the ages than he will ever be again, unless he does become aware of the internal area of existence.

A parent can recognize when Pentecost has taken place in their child by watching for the first sign of "ego." The "first temper tantrum" may be a good way to state it, although it does not always take this form. In some it is just standing up for their "rights" and asserting themselves for the first time. This should then be a signal to the parents as to what is beginning and to keep the sealed-over memories from being entirely lost there needs to be, at this time, a creative outlet. A "soil stack" or a "periscope," if you will, from the inner to the outer must be started at this time and this must be in the realm of a creative release through the arts. This is when education as to the truths of man's divine heritage should, and must, be begun.

The sealing over of the seedcore then makes contact with former knowledge almost impossible. It really must be this way or the brain could not function as it must; as the receptor of lessons set by the soul as goals. If the core was not sealed, the entity would not be born "equal," therefore, he would not have a fair chance in this incarnation of learning a lesson correctly because the learning from the previous life or lives would be too strong to overcome.

The only way for proof positive of the existence of a double evolutionary track – which simply means there is an outer evolution and an inner evolution going on at the same time – is through education as to this fact from the time of birth onward. It must be instilled in the child with no doubts coming from the parents as to their belief in the inner, esoteric part of this babe.

This rule made by the oversoul – the splitting of the spark – was painful. Can you imagine? These two halves had been together since planet number one when they were just air. It was very painful to split this divine spark and it was just as painful to the one who had to stay with the oversoul as it was to the one who went down. There was only half of himself down there. It was very frightening, almost as frightening as when they first tried to go into the animal bodies. And it was going to take much longer now for each divine spark to gain the experiences he needed to have with only one half in incarnation on the earth in a human body. The boundaries for reincarnating into this human form were tightened up at this time from what they had been previously. This was part of the control that was needed. This was done, in the beginning, by those from other planets, because there were no humans on the inner planes who had advanced to the stage where they could guide people from the inner planes. Humanity had not yet produced enough of these advanced souls.

In the beginning this guidance from the inner planes was done mostly by those from the planet Venus and the planet Sirion because the ones above the sixth and seventh planets had too difficult a time lowering their vibrations. Actually most of the help came from planet seven, Venus, although some of it did come in from other solar systems

Set Amount Of Souls For Planet

There was a set amount of souls at original creation for our planet. It was determined that the plan would be set up this way. An certain amount of atomic matter was set aside for the creation of Michael's solar system. The amount was suitable for seven million souls on planet earth, one million for each of the seven original tones of creation. Those on earth are all from "outer space" if you want to think of it that way.

When Lucifer's brothers volunteered to experiment and help refine the form they, along with Lucifer, were each allotted one million souls to oversee their progress to the point of perfecting the forms. Each of the six need only to bring enough into perfection so that totalled, they add up to one million. Needless to say, those from some planet's experiments are far ahead of those from other planets experiments. The original one million souls allotted to Lucifer are on the inner planes, never having been incarnated on earth. When they do, it will be the Divine Kingdom. Those on earth are perfecting the forms in the evolutionary process so these one million high souls can descend. They will be unisex. These ones are called archangels.

The Deva Kingdom

The Deva Kingdom is made up of some of the evolving, inseminated ape-men, who had received miniaturization previously, but never stopped shrinking because of overdoses. They shrank to the point of being unable to be seen by the normal size human who was evolving. The two kingdoms evolved and are still evolving side by side. Believe me, they know more about you than you do them. Also, in some areas of the world there live tiny humans. We call them elves and fairies. They do exist in their own little worlds.

These elves and fairies stopped shrinking before the others, but never-the-less they were also too small for the divine sparks to enter and express through and therefore they never gained a conscience as to right or wrong. Let me put it this way. They are more intelligent than animals as they received the genes of the spacemen, but at the same time they had no divine spirit enter them to help control the still somewhat animalistic form they had.

This Kingdom Watched Closely

This kingdom is watched very closely and the space brothers have taken many of them back to their home able worker, but must be considered closer to the animal part of the Biological Kingdom than the human part of this kingdom. When the spacemen finish training them, they return them and these then teach the rest of the Deva Kingdom. They have their black sheep also, as does the human race, but they also have outstanding teachers, as does the human race. Their position in the Creator's worlds is uncertain, because they are a by-product of the genetic experiments.

Time will give the answer as to the future of the Deva Kingdom. If they are willing to be helpers and workers for building the Creator's worlds, they will remain. But if they cause too many problems for workers of the light, then they will be no longer. Their energy band is not that strong but what it can be eliminated, although if they choose to cooperate, they can become a very strong force for good.

They are truly a kingdom of their own and were they not miniature, would be, at this time, highly dangerous due to their lack of training and having no conscience, which is the vehicle through which universal law operates. So you see, they do not fall under universal law which comes from the Creator. It will be very interesting from a genetic, scientific point of view to see the outcome of the training being given them.

This is a history, so to speak, of man's origins and all kingdoms have a part in that history. The development of the different kingdoms on planet earth needs to be better understood by humanity as these are all part of the truths of man's divine heritage.

Experiments Done On All Planets

The experiments being done on animals now is an ongoing laboratory experiment by the planet Darius, which is in charge of this type of space exploration. These experiments are for breeding purposes. This is why the sex organs are cut out, but only for laboratory study purposes. It should not frighten us. The experiments are being done to try to produce a superior strain of humanity. These are genetic experiments. Hitler was, indeed, aware of this work, but he went berserk in his application of the incomplete knowledge he had and tried to speed the process up. It cannot be speeded up and the testing done on animals today won't be evident for thousands of years yet.

Tens of millions of years ago, when life forms on earth were in the amoeba stage, the visitors from Andromeda and Pleiades were impressed with the perfection of the one-cell life they found on earth. If this one-cell life had not been as perfect as it was, they would have given up on earth and left the amoeba to progress into animal forms on its own. They had done this on previous planets and this is where picture of monsters came from.

There are some planets with this form of life that other civilizations took on as colonies and inseminated with their genes, so the life on these planets may be highly intelligent and evolved, but may to human eyes be frightening to look upon. These planets are now capable of sending expeditions to earth and others in our galaxy. They are merely curious and have no desire to harm humans. One must remember that humans look just as odd to them, probably even ugly.

The forms on those planets were infused with genes at a much later stage of evolution than the inseminations that were done on earth and the physical forms had already evolved to a stage where they would look like what they do. Even though evolution on these planets is still going on, it is going in a different direction. These planets are outside of earth's evolutionary chain and humans will not take on these forms ever, but they should know that they exist and not be afraid to communicate with them. They are more highly evolved spiritually than us.

Our Creator has had many, many different fields or tracks of evolution experimented with, always striving for perfection. He has sent his seed core or genes to each universe, galaxy and solar system at some time or other in their evolution to help the planets. It was done on earth at the time the animals had evolved enough to stand upright.

Every planet in this solar system has a unique way of expressing, a way that is, in some way or other, unique to that planet. Some planet's evolutionary tracks are similar to others, but there is always some difference. Each galaxy has something entirely unique and beyond that, each universe does also.

Earth Behind In Progress

Each "pass of the oversoul" will begin at the half-way point in each planet's progress. In other words, when each pass of the oversoul has reached sixth dimensional consciousness, or close to seventh, the new pass will start. These then must work up to sixth dimensional consciousness while those at sixth now work on up to twelfth dimensional consciousness and are the teachers of those from the new "pass of the oversoul." As you can see, we are out of balance; we are off course, as the new "pass of the oversoul" has started and most are only at third dimensional consciousness with some at fourth and fifth dimensional and very, very few at sixth and seventh, which is where all should be at this time.

CHAPTER TEN

The Development of Humans

The Garden of Eden

Help for the developing human continued to come in from Lucifer's brothers. This was in the form of nutrition for His restructured creation.

The Garden of Eden was an experiment to give more nourishment for the evolving animals. As man evolved out of the ape stage and started walking upright, the ships would bring certain foods and chemicals to use on selected specimens, leaving them in their natural environment, but giving them this special help. It was determined that their progress was much more rapid when eating special foods. A controlled environment growing station was started so these supplements did not have to be transported from other stars. This was the Garden of Eden. It got that name from the volunteer who was in charge of the experiment. He was one who stayed on earth many hundreds of years but did eventually return to his home star in the Pleiades. The man in charge of these experiments was truly a genius in this field. His name was Eden. His stay on earth was of three hundred years, until he felt he had stabilized the crops and done the most that he could to further the nourishment of the race.

The plant life native to earth was cross-bred with specimens brought from other planets.

This is where most edible fruits and vegetables came from. Very few were native to the earth. The root vegetables were native, but most of the vines growing on earth were barren until they were cross-bred. There were some native fruit trees that developed, but some of them caused death when eaten and many of them were inedible. The fruits on them were small and hard and had no nourishment until crossed with stock from other planets.

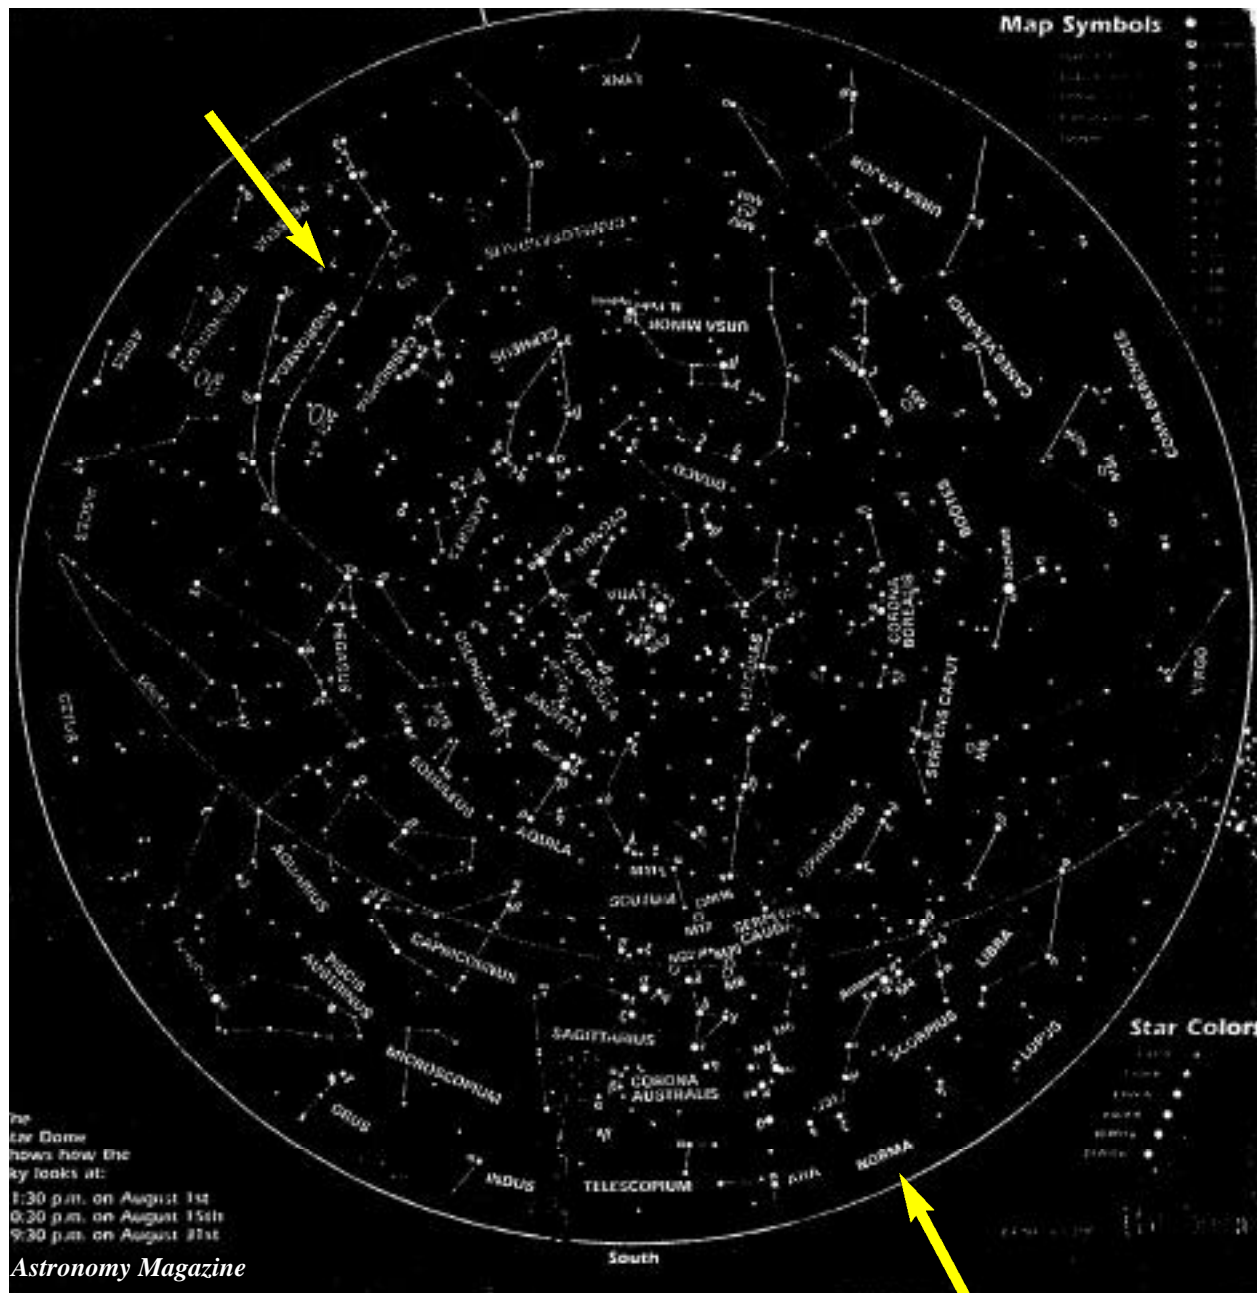

The Mineral Kingdom also had help from the space brothers, but not as much. It was pretty much as it is now, although their help was used to purify the water used to water the plants and vegetables to increase the amounts of minerals absorbed through the stems. Some minerals not found native to earth at that time were brought in from outer space and once introduced into the ecological system they stayed in the system and as man evolved, he grew dependent on these minerals. Potassium is one that was introduced from Venus.

Garden Was Experimental Growing Station

As given, the Garden of Eden was an experimental growing station for producing more highly nutritious fruits and vegetables than the earth was able to produce at that time period. Up until the time of the sixth day, when the restructuring was done through the chakras, the animal-men were not advanced enough for any nutrition to help with intelligence, but by the time Atlantis was destroyed, the spacemen needed to know if superior nutrition would help create a more thinking, reasoning human; thus experiments with nutrition had been started. On

The sixth day of creation was after the destruction of Atlantis when it was safe to land again. There were many flights made over thousands of years. The last group was from the constellation Norma. All inhabited planets in the “Milky Way” galaxy sent a group of volunteer astronauts. Andromeda, responsible for the first flight, and Norma, responsible for the last flight, are marked with arrows in the above picture.

the sixth day of creation the space ships came from outside our solar system, some from Clarion some from the constellation Norma and some from Edentia. This is where the man Eden came from, the planet Edentia, to start the experimental garden.

This was the same time when many, including the first “Lord” or Captain, came from the constellation Norma and from Clarion also. These were more advanced solar systems than where the help had previously come from, which had been from the planets in our solar system.

By this time the conscience in man had started developing. Michael had exerted enough control in the days of Lemuria that these early cave men did start developing a conscience. Some of them had continued using this conscience into the Atlantean age, but not nearly enough of them. The ones who did continue to expand this conscience were the ones that were saved when Atlantis was destroyed, as they were the more highly evolved of the race.

The Garden of Eden was begun at the same time as the restructuring because it was realized that this nutrition was going to be responsible for a large part of the refinement of the forms on this planet earth. The garden was a huge mass of land that managed over a period of about three hundred years to really increase the brain capacity of these humans.

Irrigation System Used

The Garden of Eden was located in the country known as Israel. It was a large plat of ground near the Sinai Desert that was irrigated with a tremendous irrigation system, bringing water from the distant Nile River. There is still evidence of this system to be found if excavation were made at strategic points. On the eastern bank of the Nile river in Egypt, near the town of Bethane, there is a masonry standard that bore the weight of the pipes carrying the water as it was siphoned out of the river. The pipes were of a near leather-like material made from the skins of sheep. The “pipe-line” followed the river until the point where it meets the Jordan, then crossed at this point into present day Israel. The land of Canon, the promised land, was the Garden of Eden. They were one and the same thing.

The irrigation system used was quite elaborate for its day, having these “pipes” of sheep skin crisscrossing the growing station with punctures in them and the ability to close the water off at the top of the hill. There are several of these “pipe-bags” preserved in a cave in the hillside near the town of Judea. If evidence is wanted or needed, a dig could be done there.

Eden stabilized the crops and did the most he could do. After 300 years of trying and experimenting, he had pretty much come up with the right combination in his seeds; the right hybrids of seeds, etc. The growing of crops, as done in the Garden of Eden, was planned to perfection to get the most out of the soil that they were grown in, but this did not carry out into the outer fringes of civilization.

These seeds were given out and the tribes planted them, but they didn’t do it scientifically. They planted the same crops over and over again in the same fields and drew all the nutrients from the ground in that one area. Then they would move on to another area and after practically devastating that piece of territory, they’d move on to another. This just kept going on. It’s still going on today. This is what has happened in present day Africa. There simply wasn’t enough advanced beings to get all the help necessary to all the people. This is also true today. There just simply aren’t enough advanced beings to spread them thin enough to get enough help out around to everybody. This has been the problem right along.

Up until that time the food on earth did not have a lot of the vitamins and minerals that were needed to increase the thinking capacity of that animal brain. As given, this was the purpose of the Garden of Eden. Many, many experiments were brought in as far as food goes which, by the way, will be what will happen when we go into the fourth dimension. There will be much experimentation with food products, food growing and with food interchanging of components, etc. in a new experimental garden – “Nature’s Mineral Garden.”

The Story Of The Apple

The story of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden is a fairy tale based on fact. The earth men who ate from the garden did indeed receive knowledge but, of course, not from the single bite of an apple. It was a process covering many generations. Later generations were told of the progress made by those who ate the fruit and produce of all kinds, to induce more people to plant these crops and eat the harvest, so more growth and intelligence could take place. Some of the items brought from other stars could not be grown on earth. Some could be grown but had disastrous effects on humans.

Jonah And The Whale

It was found that with the addition of seaweed, the process of thinking was speeded up even more. This is where the tale of Jonah and the Whale came from. It was thought that the best way to use the food from the sea was by eating the seaweed itself. The astronauts tried to tell the people that by eating the fish they would get the same results, that the fleshy part of the belly of the fish was a reservoir of selenium which is the chemical that is found in seaweed. The gastro-intestinal mechanism of the fish processed the seaweed automatically and stored the by-product, selenium. If the people would eat the belly of the fish they would gain the good nutrition just as easily and in a more tasty fashion than eating raw seaweed. Can you see how the Jonah and the Whale story got started, by unevolved man trying to understand this concept?

Tribe Chosen For Experiment Were From The House Of David

The captain of the space ship determined that the best way to set up the experiment as far as better nutrition was to take one tribe and divide it instead of using two different tribes. The original tribe that was split was from the House of David. One half would eat the fruit of the garden, the other would be kept outside the garden. This would assure them that there was no difference whatsoever in the two groups. If they used two different tribes there could have been biological differences due to the location in which animals grew from the amoeba and many other factors of heritage that would throw off the results of the testing. This testing was to determine if the thinking capacity of those eating from the garden improved within that very generation or if the results of better nutrition would not show up for one generation or more.

The split of the group split up families which left a heart wrenching sadness in these animal/men. The two halves of this tribe had all received the same genes, but one group was chosen to be the benefactors of the experimental garden, the other group not. In other words, one half of this tribe was as a test case; they were not allowed in the garden. There was no difference in this experiment from what our scientists today would conduct in a laboratory.

The earlier experiments did not split any tribe. They were not advanced enough at that time for any nutrition to help with intelligence, but by the time Atlantis was destroyed, the spacemen needed to know if superior nutrition would help create a more thinking, reasoning human, thus the experiments were done at that time period. This was after the 5th round of inseminations at the beginning stage of the Garden of Eden, at the time of the restructuring that took place after Atlantis.

The House of David was one of the seven original tribes known as the Jewish race. This is why they were called the “chosen” race. They were chosen, but there was no particular honor in being chosen. In fact, there was a good deal of sadness because some of the family units of the original tribe were broken apart. This also was what instigated the practice of circumcision so in case one of those outside the garden tried to have his way with one of the women in the garden, she would know immediately that he was not one of her kind and could protect herself from his advances as best she could. If he had his way with her anyway, the baby was destroyed. The spacefathers wanted nothing contaminating the half of the tribe that was kept in the experimental garden.

Amorites Part Of Aryan Race

The half of the tribe put in the Garden make up the Aryan race. They are the ones who received genes from the original experiment and also received food from the Garden, and also spiritual teachings. They were from the House of David, remember, the same as the Jewish race, but were not part of the Israel nation. As far as what happened to this half of the tribe, they were taken from the Garden after three generations and put in the land of Moab where they were watched for another three generations and at that time were released from their bondage and told to go into the world and mix with all others. They did as they were told.

This was the tribe called the Amorites and they eventually went across a land bridge and into America, but they were not the Indians. They were the survivors of Lemuria and eventually mixed and mated with the Indians. Not all of them, of course, took this trek. There are still a goodly number of them in Egypt and are the instigators of the fighting there at this time. This is called the Aryan Race today, this half of the chosen tribe. All the Aryan race on earth today are a mixture of both the animal-man experiments and the offspring of outer-space-men. To be Aryan means to have evolved with help from outer space. This whole affair is one of the more serious misinterpretations of the Old Testament. We want it set straight once and for all. These Amorites truly were the chosen race and their history is what should be traced at this time.

The Amorites were closely controlled and the records of their testing are hidden in the caves in the desert area around Moab. This is where the proof will be found that the “chosen race” was not what is known as the Jewish race today. The Jewish race was part of the chosen tribe, true, but were not the half of the tribe chosen to receive all of the help.

Lost Tribes Of Israel

All the races became mixed and many shades of all colors began to appear, except for the Jewish race, which included the half of the tribe of David not allowed in the Garden, plus the other six original tribes. What happened is that the other six tribes mixed with the half of the tribe not allowed in the garden and we lost our test case. At this time the practice of circumcision became wide spread among all the other six tribes, the “lost tribes” of Israel, if you will. They stayed true to themselves for many centuries. For this reason it has unwittingly been an ongoing experiment. This did not happen for several generations, so we still had a fairly accurate testing for approximately six generations.

When we lost our test case, was the point at which there was no longer any need to keep the tribes apart. We had already proved our point; that the more nutritious fruits and vegetables produced a more thinking, reasoning, intelligent brain in these people. The word was given in due time that the experiment was ended and that it was no longer necessary to keep the tribes apart; therefore it was no longer necessary that they be circumcised.

The “Lost tribes of Israel,” the other six of the seven original tribes were eventually inseminated with genes and taught by the Essenes and brought abreast of spiritual teachings. Their lineage has been preserved and their progress followed. They have nearly caught up with the others in all areas except knowing spiritual truths because the mixing and mating among themselves – instead of with those whose lineage was from other planets – has “watered” the gene given them by Venus to the point where it is no longer effective. Most of humanity has, by now, received enough of this gene that they will eventually open to the light.

The story of Genesis is a following of the half of the House of David that were not allowed in the Garden. The first testament of the Bible, in fact the whole Bible, is a history of this Jewish race. If read with this understanding, it would become clear. Those who have no Jewish blood in their veins are actually following the laws and commandments given the Jewish race because of the experiments the space brothers wanted to conduct.

The half that was not chosen for extended experimentation with breeding and nutrition is the half followed in the Bible, the Jewish race, the half led by Abram. They were circumcised so they would be known. This was the basis for circumcision, because the other group, the other half of the chosen tribe, was so close in looks, actions, genealogy, etc., at this time, that instead of branding their skin like you would do with cattle, the act of circumcision was initiated to differentiate between these two halves of the same tribe. Also, remember that more help had been called in from other planets and that the other races were started. At that time they did not want a mix of these races and as some of the other planet’s skin was the same color as those in the garden, they felt that circumcision was a very exacting way to set those not allowed in the garden apart from those who were. This is why the “Lord” told Abraham to circumcise any that lived with them whether of their blood or not. They wanted no tainting of their test case in the garden by any others.

To review, the half of the tribe put in the test garden was not circumcised. This half, when they were eventually released from the garden, were the ones referred to as the Amorites. This has caused much confusion and it is a misinterpretation that needs to be cleared up. To review, the Jewish race was half of the tribe chosen by the space men for the breeding experiments. The race was split in half and the half that received insemination of genes from the space men were kept apart from the other half and fed nutritional food from the experimental growth station, the Garden of Eden. The half not put in the garden was circumcised so they could be told from the half that had been inseminated.

Exodus

The book of Exodus tells of the tribes being led out of the land of Egypt where, due to climactic conditions, the raising of food was no longer practical, and into the land of Cannan to the verdant valleys where they could grow their own food and supplement the “host” that was given to them by the space fathers.

The “host” was a scientific atomic energy food production factory. It would have had to have been scientific. Anything termed a “miracle” in the Bible was simply higher scientific technology, which did indeed look like a miracle to the unevolved humans just coming out of the animal track.

Moses

Moses was one of the early leaders who was able to help the people and there were many others. They did have extremely long lifetimes back in those days. All of them had much longer lifetimes, but these continued to grow shorter due to the misuse of plants and all the natural goodness of the earth. Perhaps a better way to state it would be that all the natural goodness of the earth was never intelligently put to the uses that had been intended for it.

To continue, the Garden of Eden was helping. The huge animals had already been taken care of before the restructuring, so there were no longer any large animals. The spacemen introduced fire and the wheel. Fire was an awesome thing to men at this time. They were, of course, frightened by it and held it in awe and fell down and worshiped it when they saw it. It would literally incapacitate them until finally, through many hundreds of years, they learned to use it. Try to picture teaching a cat nowadays not to be afraid of fire.

When the first men were finally convinced that they could control fire, the first major step in progress was made. But this stage was very frustrating to the astronauts because every time they would try to demonstrate fire and its many uses, the people would cower and hide or run or fall on the ground and worship them, completely incapacitated.

The first breakthrough in the acceptance of fire came when the spacemen gathered a large group of ships and a large gathering of men.

The spacemen demonstrated fire – the different ways of starting it and putting it out and starting it again and once more extinguishing it. In this manner they demonstrated complete control over this force of nature. Moses was the first man brave enough to try to control fire in front of the others. This made him a leader of the people. He was more evolved, just a happenstance, and the spacemen could communicate more easily with him.

The period of low tide on the Red Sea was a time of drought and famine in Egypt. The crops wouldn't grow, the waters dried up in the sea and the fish lay dead and stinking on the shores causing disease. Many tried to eat the dead fish because they were starving. They became ill and died. It was truly a time of terrible trials in the land. The spacemen knew that for those of Moses' tribe, they had to get them to greener pastures. (This is the basis of the twenty-third psalm.) This was when they convinced him that the people would be better off in the land known as Sinai, because of its fertile valleys where the new crops could be grown more easily.

They knew they could never get the people into the spaceships because of fear. They decided to guide them with smaller ships that are stored under the big Mother ships, similar to lifeboats on ocean going vessels. They led Moses and the people there at night, using lights which the men thought were fire. When they came to the Red Sea, the water was at a low, an all time low, and there was a sandy bar three quarters of the way across. The spacemen sand-bagged, so to speak, the rest of the way so that they could walk the whole distance across. By sandbagging, I mean just that. The use of some bags filled with sand was enough to dry up a ridge through the center for the people to cross, (the parting of the Red Sea.) Once on the other side, they were left again with adequate seed for planting to fend for themselves. They had to stand on their own. Each today must learn to fend for himself and stand on his own.

The Ten Commandments

The Ten Commandments were given by those of Venus from a ship that was called "Orion." This is where the help came from on the sixth day - from Venus. The Ten Commandments were guidelines given to Moses by the spacebrothers when they left him to be gone for a long period of time, but have, of course, been misinterpreted by religious dogma. These were guidelines given to the race at that time period. There is a new set of guidelines in place for the race where it is now. There will be new guidelines for the race where it is 50 or 100 years from now. The guidelines must continue to evolve along with the evolving of man.

The spacemen pulled out from the Garden of Eden. They had found in Moses a leader for his tribe but, like a wise parent, the spacemen knew that they had to let this "child" grow and learn and discover and do or not do these things on his own. They couldn't stand over him and constantly give him orders and constantly say this is not right and that is not right, etc. These "children" had to experience and experiment by themselves, so the spacemen decided to pull away and see what would happen. This is when they left orders or guidelines for Moses to help his people that are now known as the Ten Commandments. They were universal laws worded in a more simplistic manner than the original wording, but the thought behind each was not changed. They were given to Moses from a space ship over a speaker system as the ship was getting ready to depart. This is why it was on a hill, as most landings and takeoffs succeed better when done on a high spot. This is true even today.

The commander of the ship, the "Lord," was leaving these guidelines, or orders of a sort, for Moses, as guides for him in his leadership of the people because they would have to leave him for a period of time as a testing of his abilities. These guidelines that were left eventually evolved from these simple statements and explanations to the cruel guidelines or Ten Commandments that the churches use today to keep their flocks in line. Incidentally, they were not in any given order such as the Bible puts them into. The way given here is the way they were stated to Moses. These guidelines were as follows:

The first commandment, love thy Father and Mother, has and had two applications: your own parents and your parents from the heavens, the spacemen, whose genes you carry in your bodies, without which you would still be an animal.

The second commandment, love thy neighbor as thyself, also has two meanings, the same earthly and heavenly. The churches have not stressed the heavenly, the population of other planets.

The third commandment is taken too literally. Have no other God before me, meant that they had no help from anyone before the spacemen came and in the future they would get no help from anyone other than these same spacemen, as this was their planet's assigned task.

The fourth commandment was do unto others, which was as simple then as it is now and needs no further explanation.

The fifth commandment, thou shalt not commit adultery, was meant in application to the land. They should not rape and pillage the land; they must treat it with respect so it will continue to grow the necessary food. This one commandment above all others has caused much fear and guilt. The meaning applied to it today fell into the category of do unto others, etc.

The sixth commandment was as follows. While working in the fields, the people had a habit of chanting while they worked and these chants were in praise of the sun and rain gods, the idols or statues that the men insisted on building in each field. This was what was meant by idol worship.

The seventh commandment of be thy brother's keeper, is also a simple one: You must look after and take care of your brother as yourself.

The eighth, ninth and tenth ones were simple rules: the first laws or regulations governing a group effort to live and work together, as applicable now as they were then.

When the ships left, they did not return for three hundred years, during which time Moses and his people faced all sorts of problems from nature. Some they brought on themselves by not treating the land with respect. Planting the same crops over and over in a field depleted the nutrients in the ground. Some they had no control over, such as the locust.

Moses did what he had to do to control the unevolved man to an extent where peace could reign in place of chaos. He did an excellent job, striking a balance between too much limitation and too much freedom. If this balance could be found today in the judicial system, it would be well.

When the spacemen returned, Moses was overwhelmed with joy and relief. Yes, he was still alive. The spacemen saw to that as they knew he would be needed until they could get back. He was very tired and did pass on after their return, but not until after they had congratulated him on his handling of the situation. He had earned a rest and did not take on another body for five hundred years after that, but he did watch over his people and was one of the first humans to become an inner plane guide and teacher.

This explains the stories of Moses who was an outstanding specimen at that time. He has been back many times since then and each time has helped the race with his foresight.

Leviticus

Leviticus is the story of the Levi ancestors, those who were shunned from the garden. They had received the genes of the spacemen as part of the experiment, but were not chosen to be the ones followed through with purity. The Levites were the ones who were left as a test case, to see what would develop without the fruit of the Garden of Eden to enhance their mental capacities. What is known as the Jewish race today are those who received genes from the original experiment but no food from the garden and no spiritual enlightenment from other stars by interbreeding. The proper explanation of the Jewish race is the fact that there were seven tribes of animals standing upright. One tribe, the House of David, was chosen and all of them received the genes from Venus. Then this one tribe was divided in half and one half was put in the Garden of Eden to eat of the fruits and vegetables, the other half was not allowed in the Garden and this half is the one who had to be circumcised. This kept the first half pure.

The Essenes

The Essenes were the original experimenters from the planet Venus who kept a colony on earth to help their experiments. They mainly were, are, and always will be, more interested in the two halves of the chosen tribe, instead of the other six tribes. This group from Venus stayed and colonized the earth from the time of the first experiments on. They did not all stay and intermix and intermarry. They put in a “term” of service and returned to their homes and a new group replaced them, but there was always a carry-over. They were, and still are, the teachers of earthlings. They were the original source of the ten commandments given to Moses. They have always been the teachers throughout our history. They were the teachers of Jesus. They were the speakers that brought through true teachings.

At the juncture of Judaism and Christianity the Essenes initiated the tribes of Israel into the teachings that would enable them to recognize the one who would receive the Christ Consciousness. Without this “initiation” they would not have known the signs pointing to Jesus as the “One.” The same is true today. Only the ones who have been “initiated” by those of the seventh planet will know and recognize the signs of the new “savior.” These preparations are ongoing today in the same manner that took place then.

They, the Essenes, were and are the intermediaries from the seventh planet ever reaching back to planet earth to help. It was then, and is now, the “Presence” of revealing energy that changes a person seemingly overnight from an animal-based existence to a divinely-based existence. They are termed thought-adjusters by some, Etherians by others, Essenes by other, Guardian Angels by still others, but they are all one and the same and know those who are able and ready to receive them and their enlightenment.

The Great White Brotherhood

The way the identifications were classified down through the ages were through the brotherhoods and houses of different tribes and how they related to the spacefathers experiments. The genealogy of physical forms is still being kept and traits and qualities good and bad are being noted and are used when the next incarnation of any is being planned. This information is used in the birthing-computer room. It is the determining factor for the final choice of parents.

The spacemen know the traits and qualities that will be found in certain lineages but this information will not be given due to the ego problems it would cause. These houses or lineages now are not thought or spoken of as separate due to the intermixing. They are the ones that make up the Great White Brotherhood which means any in a pure line of descent from any of the houses that started the original experiments. The brotherhoods were related to those who evolved through the earth cycles and moved on and had belonged, throughout all incarnations, to a certain house, thereby insuring the purity of divine descent. This will not be elaborated on due to problems it would cause, but feel this much will help.

Those original experiments were given genes that greatly enhanced their intelligence and also transferred knowledge of life on other planets to them, that they themselves had never experienced, as it was coming from the genes of ancestors from other planets.

You see, our knowledge and memories are passed through the physical body as well as the divine part of us. Our animal brain is a receptor and a storehouse for memories that our divine spark has no interest in. Only the deeds, good or bad, of the conscience or divine core are stored in our ethereal body. But the physical, animal brain of ours is capable of much more than perhaps you care to realize. Our animals could make much more progress if we put the effort into helping them that the spacefathers put into helping us.

This animal brain has its own memories of events that happened to the physical bodies of any of its forebears. These memories are passed along the same as the ability to grow a beard or the tendency to have buck teeth. If you had an ancestor that was mauled and eaten by a lion, the memory of that happening that was impressed on the animal brain would carry on through to the next incarnation of that entity and be photographed into the genetic code. The DNA of that man or woman's physical offspring would carry that memory while his divine spark, although having that memory embedded in his ethereal body in the next lifetime could and probably would be able to erase it after two or three incarnations, but the photograph of that event stays ever in the genetic code.

The same thing would apply to floods, earthquakes, tornados etc. Anything causing a violent, fearful death of the form stays as such a vivid memory in that one's next life that this is when the imprinting is done into the genetic code.

Take the recent explosion of our spacecraft for instance. The astronauts who perished will still have that memory, that fear very strong and very close to the surface in their next life and this is what will then be passed on to any offspring they have in their next life. Any offspring they had in this life will not be affected as they received genes before the accident.

Those same astronauts themselves in the lifetimes after the next will probably be totally free of that fear, but any physical bodies descended from them in that next lifetime will carry the gene with the photograph of the accident and this gene can come forward at any unexpected time in any descendants.

The astronauts themselves are responsible for coding it into the DNA system the next time they incarnate, not purposefully you understand. It just cannot be erased that quickly. It takes another life in a form to "soak up," if you will, this "picture" that is haunting them.

This knowledge is buried deep in humanity and some who commit suicide are acting on this knowledge unaware on a surface level, but deep down knowing they entered this time to relieve themselves of a tragic circumstance. If this were realized consciously by them and they refused to bear offspring, many problems of humanity would "die" and be problems no more. This is being realized more and more as far as physical wrongs, but not as far as mental problems.

The inseminations of the human form are still being done to help the physical form. The way the help is being given to the forms today is a matter that will not be discussed at this time as it would frighten people, and it is not time to give this information out.

As far as what is happening to many people in the area of "awakening" to spiritual facts, it is simply a culmination of many previous lifetimes. These are the ones who have stayed on schedule for humanity as far as beginning to enter this divine kingdom. To be able to enter the higher mind levels is prerequisite to finding the divine kingdom of God within ourself.

We have had much, much help from others in our universe and are still receiving this help and this help has gone even outside our universe and outside our galaxy, and is even coming in from the superuniverse of which we are part. Earth is considered a very important part of the Creator's plan or it would not be given all the help it has been and is being given. This is why it is so frustrating to the spacemen that the pace of development is slow. Although they don't have time as such, there is a rhythm to the universe and earth must be kept on schedule, the same as each individual on earth must stay on schedule as far as their time in their recycling and their movement on in evolution.

Numbers

The book of Numbers is the book in the Old Testament that has been the least tampered with and is an accurate record of the names of those being experimented on. No one ever really understood this book, therefore there was no tampering done to it.

The book of Numbers deals with the records the space fathers kept as far as their test case and their pure experiment – the two halves of the tribe known as the House of David. This book of Numbers is not understood by humanity today whatsoever. The reason it is not understood is because it was in a code so the space fathers could know the results of their experiments. If it were interpreted in this manner, it would be proof positive to humanity of what is being written here.

I would like to suggest that much attention be given to this book, whereas not much attention has been given to it up to this point, due to it seeming meaningless to those reading it. It is not meaningless! It is the only untampered with proof of the spacefather's experiments; of the help that came from Venus. It has not been tampered with because it was not understood as to what it truly meant. Therefore, by the grace of the unillumination of all down through the ages, this book has been preserved as the only way humanity will ever come to believe in the double evolution, spiritual and physical, because of their deep faith in the Bible. Therefore, I believe this book of Numbers should be gone over with a fine tooth comb and interpreted the way it should be.

Lord Is Captain Of Fleet

The “Lord” referred to in the Old Testament was the leader, the Captain, if you will, of the spacefathers' fleet. The “Lord,” Himself, was not only the Captain of the fleet, but also the head scientist and kept track of the breeding experiments as far as which were descended from animals and which were mated with “space beings.” He was the one who chose the tribe from the House of David from Abram to be those who received the fruits of the Garden of Eden and also the manna from the Ark.

Original Tribes With Special Digestive Systems

The House of David was one of the oldest tribes. The House of Enoch, House of Jonas, House of Leban, House of Kenesaw, the House of Jerrod and the House of Levi are the main tribes that had descended down through the years from before the start of the Bible. These were the original tribes that developed with “special” digestive systems.

The animals formed their own tribes and the animal brain was functioning on rudimentary power, but animal instinct was stronger than it is now in any species and these animals kept in closely knit tribes. They knew their own at times when the spacemen did not. Therefore, there were distinct lines or boundaries kept of these tribes which made the spacemen's record keeping easier up until the mixing of all races.

The lost tribes of Israel are the ones who were not allowed in the Garden. They were considered lost as far as the spacemen were concerned, not lost in a literal sense of the word, only in a spiritual sense. They were the ones the Captain (Lord) did not choose to aid; the ones he left to “make it on their own.” The Captain (Lord) had driven them out of the Garden of Eden which was, remember, an experimental garden for aiding evolution. He had to have a test case to compare against those helped by the garden food. No experiment could be considered accurate without being done this way.

The “Lord,” Himself, the Captain of the fleet, made several appearances at that time and He did glow with light. He glowed as we today cannot, partly because of the pure atmosphere then, combined with His electromagnetic field, His energy. Also, he amplified His voice. Passages in the Bible refer to the Lord “speaking.” This was done by an electronic encoder that transformed the language of the Captain or the “Lord” into the speaking language of the people who, at that time, also used a partial sign language. This all made it highly difficult for accuracy. In fact, I can think of no other situation today that would be as open to error as was this time period.

Deuteronomy

The book of Deuteronomy is the condensation of how this first “Lord” misused His powers as far as having complete control over these people. He was removed as Captain of His fleet and a new Captain returned after this first part of the Bible.

Lord In First Books Of Bible Not Same As Lord In Later Books

To continue the discussion of the Old Testament, there is one piece of knowledge that would most likely help humanity in their understanding of these first books of the Bible. This knowledge is the fact that the “Lord” referred to in these early books was not the same “Lord” as the one in later books of the Old Testament. This first “Lord” was a mean, jealous man who, due to the power He had over these simple folk, set Himself up deliberately to be worshiped by these people. He had more power than the greatest in the world today and He used it. This was unfortunate and it has been a cause of most of the problems of our religions today. These stories were not misinterpreted.

This being who set himself up as the “Lord” truly did not start out this way (being mean).

He was used to having command of the space flights to other planets and He was used to having His orders obeyed.

It had to be this way as it still has to be this way with those in charge of armies, for the sake of discipline. He needed to use this tight rein with these poor half animals, half men that were the results of the experiments of His planet. He had to be firm with them. They had to have guidelines, which is what the ten commandments were. This all had to be done. But then it was overdone. It went to the point where He enjoyed making these poor folk cringe and bow down before Him.

Do not misunderstand. This first Captain (Lord) did what He had to do in the beginning to follow up on the experiments of the artificial inseminations with genes from His planets. He did this in a firm, loving and kind way in the beginning, but then this power did go the wrong direction and He misused it.

Joshua

The following book in the Bible, that of Joshua, begins with the reappearance of the space fathers with a new Captain in charge of the fleets. The first Captain (Lord) was taken back into His cycles for a rest and truly set back in His evolution. He had to repeat many lessons. He did not reincarnate onto the earth plane, but He did serve the inner planes of our earth, trying to help undo some of the wrongs He had caused. When these early people then passed from the earth plane, He worked with them paying off His karma.

Of course the poor, simple folk did not realize the difference between that first Captain and the second, because there was a long time period before a return was made. The people feared this new Captain (Lord) because of the stories and tales passed down about the first Captain, (Lord). The new Captain (Lord) tried to change the image the people had of the one they called their "Lord." He tried to change this into an image of a loving Father. He has been trying ever since to undo the harm caused by the first Captain, towards the end of His mission, to the people of His planet. This new Captain did not try to make the people understand that He was a different "Lord." There was no way He could make them understand this at that time. I believe this piece of knowledge can help unravel some of the discrepancies in the Old Testament of the Bible which, as stated before, truly is a history book. This First Testament, these first books are important to humanity as far as understanding their beginnings and the help that they did receive, and also where it got off the track and how it was tried to be put back on the track as being a loving group of people under a loving God.

The Rest Of The Old Testament

The rest of the Old Testament was a recapitulation of what those recording the history thought must have taken place. This was the only way they could determine that it must have happened due to their stage of evolution and their trying to understand what the space fathers were telling them and then putting it in a form they could relate to. They did their best and are not to be blamed, but commended for having at least done this much.

As far as the lineage given in the Old Testament, it could show the insemination of genes that was still ongoing at this time. It would be very helpful to trace these races, if it could be done from a standpoint of equality and not from a standpoint of egotism as to one's forebears. Until this point is reached, it probably would not be wise to trace the races. Perhaps some day it can be done, but this seems unimportant at this time. Only to know that it could be traced is important and this is why all the names were recorded. The spacemen kept them for their records to show how their experiments worked. A good scientist will always do this and the spacemen were and are excellent scientists.

The races will be traced in the future when the new Captain of the space ship arrives to change the image of the last one who came, that has now been misinterpreted. Yes, I'm talking about Jesus. He was the Captain of a ship, a different one yet, who wanted to come down and walk the land with these people who were the results of His forefather's experiments.

He felt truly that they had not been given enough help at that time. Each time it is foretold that a new prophet will be given, that a new "savior" will come, it is in the change over on the other planets. The constant growth and evolvement of all beings will constantly cause a growth and evolvement in the "saviors" sent down to help their colony on earth. It must be this way.

The original "Lord" has moved so far on now, after repaying His karma to the people, working His way back up the ladder of evolution, that He has now left our solar system. It is not the same "Lord" who oversees the teachings now. They all used the Krystos (Christ) energy to come through humanity to bring new teachings, and every so often they did land. This is predetermined. They have landed every 500 years, bringing a new teacher to carry the help to their colony one step higher. If we would trace history as much as we are able we could pinpoint these teachers at approximately this time/space interval. It is on the spacemen's map; they see it all at one time. Yes, like pins marking the spot, the space, the place in time where these teachers were sent down. They will not give the dates exactly, because they feel this is something that we, ourselves, need to search for to help our own growth and progress on our path. But if we do make this search, we will find the pattern.

This series of New Millennium NoteBooks will hopefully further our understanding of things that happened long ago and far away from the time period we are experiencing now. Analogies are used in many places to help with understanding. Teaching through the use of analogies will be the trend of education for the future –

AnalogicThought. While contemplating these NoteBooks I hope you will allow yourself to imagine that perhaps I have been given incredible insight into some of the mysteries of the universe. Please allow your mind to expand and wonder “what if” it all took place as being presented.
