

The Path
Poem by Norma

When walking on the path
Weary after many a mile
Look over at one walking near you
And give a wink and a smile

For that one is also tired
Searching for truth and light
A friendly nod and a great big grin
Will make his way more bright.

Think not that you are alone
Cause this can never be true
For during your travels and trials
Your God Within is with you.

Terrible times may come o'er the land
Darkness and fear fill the air
But walk on together hand in hand
And look not back in fear.

Grow ever in the light of truth
And help others this light find
Your load will grow much lighter
As God Within brings peace of mind.
